

FI.DO project: Fighting fake news and DisinfOrmation

9th January 2023 / FI.DO Partnership

The FI.DO project's final public events will conclude in January 2023

The first event that aimed to present the results of the FI.DO project to interested public took place in December in Slovenia. The remaining events will be organized in all other project countries (Italy, Greece and Poland) in January.

With the beginning of the new year comes the completion of the FI.DO project implementation stage, after two years of development of the foreseen results and activities and the establishment of a very interesting and fulfilling collaboration experience between the involved partners.

During its lifetime, the FI.DO project partnership:

- developed 3 widely transferable educational resources (the Training Methodology, the Manual for trainers and the online educational Serious Game);
- implemented 12 workshops (Living Lab) in 4 different countries of the partnership;
- established a public Facebook page sharing relevant information, news and tools from around the world connected to the phenomenon of the fake news;
- created a website to offer easy-access to all project results and other materials;
- published 6 different articles on the EPALE platform. The articles are being translated in all partners' languages. More articles are scheduled to be published until the end of the project;
- submitted an abstract and finalized a research paper to be presented at the INTED2023 Conference;
- established a YouTube channel and published 2 videos from the workshops, with more to be added;
- held a final event in Slovenia and will hold 3 more multiplier events in Italy, Poland and Greece.

More about the final Multiplier Events

The partnership has started activities for the promotion of the project results. The first activity was organised in Slovenia in December, where all results were presented in their entirety in front of an audience of 400 people. The event was held in Trbovlje, followed by a mono-comedy and a reception for all participants. Similarly, the partners from Italy, Poland and Greece are organising their own final events which will be held by the end of January.

All these events are free to attend but require registration. Contact the organising partner to participate (AFORISMA, AHE & IDEC)
